Numb. 4718

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Tuesday July 4. to Thursday July 6. 1710.

Berlin, June 28. N. S.

ON the 16th Inſtant Monſieur Lionſtadt, the Swediſh Envoy, delivered the King four Letters from the King of Sweden, which were brought by the laſt Courier that paſſed through this Town from Bender; but his Diſpatches not being opened 'till he came to Wiſmar in the Lower Saxony, theſe Letters were ſent back from thence after the Meſſenger's Arrival. The firſt was a Letter of Congratulation on the Birth of his Pruſſian Majeſty's Grand Daughter. The ſecond complained of the Violation of the Treaty of Alt-Ranſtadt, of which Treaty the King of Pruſſia was a Guarantee. The third related to the War which the King of Denmark had entred into againſt Sweden, and reminded his Pruſſian Majeſty of his being alſo a Guarantee of the Treaty of Altona. By the laſt, the King of Sweden ſignified, that he had been pleaſed to honour his Envoy at this Court, and Monſieur Friezendorf at the Court of Hanover, with the Titles of Privy Counſellors; and thereupon the Envoy delivered his Letters of Revocation, and is preparing to leave this Court. The ſame Courier brought alſo the King of Sweden's Orders for the Promotion of ſeveral General Officers. Since the Daniſh Envoy hath received his Maſter's Ratification of a Contract made with a Merchant of this City for two thouſand Horſes he hath been frequently at Charlottenburg, to procure the King's Leave for their Exportation, and hath obtained a Paſſport for eight hundred Horſes, but with this Reſtriction, that it be ſufficiently atteſted the Horſes were not bought in his Pruſſian Majeſty's Dominions. It being lawful to export all Horſes ſold at publick Fairs, the Merchant deſigns to furniſh himſelf with the Remainder of thoſe for which he hath contracted at the Fair of Frankfort upon Oder, which is to begin on the 14th of July. On Tueſday laſt his Pruſſian Majeſty received an Account from Holland, that the Plate which belonged to Prince Frederick Henry of Orange, valued at fifty thouſand Crowns, was delivered to Monſieur Schmettau, his Envoy at the Hague, and he hath diſpatched Orders to have it ſent forthwith hither. General Janus is marching with a conſiderable Body of Muſcovites to join the Saxons and Poles, which are to encamp on the Frontiers between Poland and Pomerania; and it is reported that the Czar himſelf deſigned to join the King of Poland, which gives great Uneaſineſs to the Swediſh Envoy at this Court, who apprehends that they deſign to march into Pomerania, an Army being aſſembled on that Frontier, when there is no longer a Pretext of puniſhing the City of Dantzick. All Differences between his Poliſh Majeſty and that City, relating to their Behaviour with regard to the King of Sweden, are finally determined. General Guldenſtern hath alſo ſignified his Deſign to aſſemble all his Force for the defence of Swediſh Pomerania. Theſe Motions occaſion ſome Diſturbance to this Court, becauſe that part of Pomerania which belongs to the King of Sweden, as being ſeparated from Poland by the Pruſſian Territories, is expoſed to the Marches of either Army. The Marriage between the Duke of Courland and the Czar's Neice is concluded, and the Duke is to have for her Dowry two hundred thouſand Crowns, and his Country is to be exempted from Quarters and Contributions. Letters from Warſaw of the 20th Inſtant ſay, that according to Advices from Bender of the 31ſt of May, that the King of Sweden and the Palatin of Kiow continued at Bender; but that the Cham of Crim-Tartay was returned into his Dominions. Theſe Advices make mention of the Warlike Preparations of the Turks and Tartars, of their aſſembling an Army, repairing and building Fortifications on the Frontiers; but by other Intelligence, we are aſſured that they will religiouſly obſerve their late Treaty with the Muſcovites.

Copenhagen, July 1. N. S. On the 15th of the laſt Month Vice-Admiral Raab came into the Sound with his Squadron, from cruiſing off of Gottenburg and Maelſteand, and having laid in a ſufficient quantity of Proviſions, he ſailed on the 21ſt in Company with a Squadron under the Command of Vice-Admiral Barfuſe, to join Admiral Ouldenlew. The ſame Day the Admiral, who had lain ſome time on the Coaſt of this Iſland, in the Mouth of the Eaſt-Sea, ſailed towards the Iſland of Rugen, with a Deſign to engage the Swediſh Fleet, which was then cruiſing off of that Iſland. The Daniſh Fleet being joined by the Squadrons of the Vice-Admirals Raab and Barfuſe, conſiſted of twenty ſeven Men of War of the Line of Battel, beſides a great number of Frigats. That of Sweden was ſaid to exceed ours in number; but we are adviſed, that at the Approach of our Fleet they retired to Carlſcroon. We have this Day received Intelligence by the Maſter of a Swediſh Veſſel that was brought in from Stockholm, that the Swedes continued in their Harbour, and that the Danes were then cruiſing on the Coaſt of Bornholm, between that Iſland and Rugen. Since the Departure of Vice-Admiral Raab from before Gottenburg, we are adviſed, that the Enemy are refitting a Squadron of fourteen Frigats to cruize at the Mouth of the Baltick. Upon this Intelligence the Merchant-Fleet bound for Ireland, which is ready to Sail, is detained in this Port, becauſe the Merchants do not think the Convoy of three Frigats which are appointed to attend them ſufficient for their Security. An Embargo is laid on ſeveral Veſſels in our Harbour, which we hear are to be employed in tranſporting the Reinforcements from Livonia, wherewith the Czar hath promiſed to aſſiſt his Daniſh Majeſty. Theſe Troops will amount to ſix thouſand Foot and two thouſand Horſe, and the Czar is to maintain them at his own Expence. The Officers have received Orders to buy Baggage-Horſes for their Regiments at their own Charge, and to be in a readineſs to take the Field the Middle of this Month. The King hath promiſed to repay them for the Horſes, and to allow for their Forage during that time, there not being ſufficient Magazines for that Service. It is ſaid two new Regiments are to be raiſed in Norway; and it appears by the Liſt of our Forces, that the Army will amount to twenty four thouſand ſix hundred twenty four Foot, ſix thouſand ſix hundred Horſe, and five thouſand Dragoons. On the 28th of the laſt Month the Swediſh Hoſtages for Carelshaven were ſent over to Schonen from Elſinore; but thoſe for Chriſtianſtadt are detained at Caſſeur, and the Danes refuſe to enlarge them before the Contributions of twelve thouſand Crowns, which were demanded of that Town, are fully paid. The Regulation made by this Court for the Privateers, having very much injured the Trade of the Britiſh Nation and the United Provinces in the Baltick this Summer, his Daniſh Majeſty hath ſuſpended it at the Inſtances of the Queen of Great Britain and the States-General, untill ſuch time as they come to an Agreement with the King of Denmark, concerning the ſeveral Articles of that Regulation. A Fleet of Britiſh Merchantſhips is arrived in the Sound, under Convoy of two Men of War. Monſieur Kraegh, who for ſeveral Years hath had the Title of Privy-Counſellor, is now made firſt Commiſſioner of the Treaſury. We have an Account, that the Swedes are marking out a Camp for thirty thouſand Men in the Neighbourhood of Landſcroon, and it is believed that both Armies will take the Field the latter end of this